BEYOND EXCEPTIONAL MEDICINE™

WOMEN'S HEALTH

Our compassionate team of women's health experts in the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology at Keck Medicine of USC is dedicated to treating the whole woman throughout her life. From general questions and routine visits to complex conditions and high-risk pregnancies, our highly trained medical professionals are committed to delivering personal, effective, top-level care.

Our compassionate team can provide assessment, treatment and support through every stage of a woman's life — from childhood, including puberty and her first gynecologic exam, through pregnancy and menopause.

Women have unique health needs, and our comprehensive services aim to treat each patient's individual needs with support, resources, the latest technology and patient education. Our interdisciplinary approach ensures we are at the clinical forefront of new developments in medical research including advancements and expertise in:

- Gynecology
- Fertility
- Maternal fetal medicine
- Fetal surgery
- Reproductive endocrinology
- Women's cancers
- Gynecologic urology
- Obstetrics & Pregnancy
- Hormone replacement therapy
- Many other health topics that are important to women

- USC gynecologists, obstetricians, perinatologists, women's cancer specialists, urogynecologists and fertility experts available.
- Care easily accessed at locations across Los Angeles.
- All physicians certified by the American Board of Obstetrics and Gynecology.
